

IN PARADE AND SPORT

Labor Day to be Celebrated Well.

LABORATORY AND FIELD GAMES

Unions Will Turn Out in Force With Floats and Bands—Review by Governor.

LABOR DAY will be celebrated with a parade, a game and a ball. Plans of united labor for the day have been consummated. From morning till night there will be a display of the city and in honor of the day the business houses, the banks and public offices will be closed.

The principal event of the day will be the picnic and sports which will take place at Kapiolani Park during the afternoon, when there will be all kinds of games and sports, where there will be refreshments for the women and children, and where the men whose days are passed in the shop and on building will throw off their cares and give their time and thought to full enjoyment. The day will be opened, however, with that time-honored American institution, a grand parade and literary review.

The parade will occupy the entire morning, with its attendant speechmaking and reviews, and will pass over the principal streets, ending after a countermarch before Governor Dole and a party of United States Army officers, General J. C. Breckenridge being at the head of that party. The line of march will be the following, in so far as it can be arranged at present:

- Grand Marshal Matthew Heffern.
- Chief Aid Thomas Ray and Corps of Aides Mounted.
- Territorial Band.
- Honorable United Labor, Representing All Branches of Trades, Escorted by a Corps Selected from all Trades.
- Major Edward Davis, Commanding Two Batteries U. S. Artillery.
- Plumbers' Union.
- Electrical-Workers' Union.
- Brotherhood of Carpenters.
- Bricklayers' Union.
- Plasterers' Union.
- Painters' Union.
- Second Division.
- Union, Headed by the Portuguese Band.
- Office Clerks and Letter-Carriers.
- Francis Murphy Clubs.
- Ironmoulders' Union.
- Boilermakers and Iron-shipbuilders' Union.
- Floats and Wagons of Merchants.

The route of the parade will be as follows: Form at drill shed, move down Kalia street to King, to Fort, to Kapiolani, to Victoria, countermarch to Kapiolani, to King, to the Executive building grounds, where, after review, the parade will disband. The makai portion of the building grounds, with its staff, General Breckenridge, with attending officers, and invited guests, will be stationed, from which point they will review the parade. The committee on awards will be in this party and will judge the prizes as they pass before the reviewing party.

There will be several floats in the line, in the case of the unions will be the line with them. There will be floats from the Boilermakers, representing the branches of their work. Floats from the Ironmoulders, and the float representing a ship in full sail from the Sailors' Union. There will be no general float to represent Labor. The Republic. It was intended to have a Goddess of Liberty, but it was found that a costume would cost $150, and the committee decided that it would be better to save the money and cut out the Goddess.

There will be a prize of $50 for the best-dressed body of men and of $100 for the best float. These will be judged by a board consisting of Postmaster L. C. Ables and W. F. Love. There will be some well-dressed organizations, though all have not given out the uniform which will be worn in the parade. The Electrical-Workers will have a strong bid for the prize of honor, the best-dressed union. The men in white trousers, white shirts, white collar and tie, white straw hats, carrying a brass rod such as is used in the business, with an electric globe at the top, in varying colors, with conical ribbons so arranged that any point will disclose a red, white and blue combination. The Bricklayers will

CHIEF EXAMINER FOR CUSTOM-HOUSE

Raymer Sharp Has Been Sent Here From San Francisco.

Raymer Sharp, an examiner in the appraiser's store of the local custom house, has been recommended by Special Agent Jay C. Cummings for the position of examiner in chief of the Honolulu custom house. Cummings found the unexpected amount of business done at that port had resulted in tangling up the liquidation of entries, as no appraiser had been provided, and that an experienced chief was required to facilitate business. The appointment will be a promotion in civil service lines from a salary of $1,600 to $2,400 per annum.—Chronicle.

will be preceded by a band-carrier. Other unions have in preparation surprises in the way of uniforms and features. The parade will form at 8:30 o'clock and will move at 9 o'clock sharp, so that it is expected that, with an hour for the covering of the line of march the return to the executive grounds for the literary exercises will be made at 10 o'clock. The addresses will be made from the bandstand in the grounds. The principal speech will be that of T. McCants Stewart. He will be followed by Francis Murphy and the last address will be that of Franklin Austin, who also will tell an original story appropriate to the day.

The afternoon will be given over to the picnic features, the arrangements being for a turnout at Kapiolani Park. The race-track will be the scene of the sports, which will comprise every kind of game which may be had—races for all those who may wish to enter, and a general good time, there being no set rules, no fees and all manner of freedom.

In the evening there will be a ball at the drill shed, which will be one of the features of the observance of the day. Invitations have been issued to 800 men. The drill shed will be decorated for the occasion and there will be music by Captain Berger's orchestra. The committee having the affair in charge has gone to infinite pains to see that all the niceties of the occasion may be arranged and there will be an excellent supper served. It had been the intention of the committee to have the supper free, but the expense would have been too great and the result is that there will be a charge to cover the expense only.

The committee has made all the arrangements has been actuated by the desire to make the expenditures as light as possible, so that there may be a surplus when all bills have been paid. It

THREE COTTAGES ON SCHOOL STREET GO UP IN SMOKE

A Sick Child Carried Out of One Burning House by Mounted Police Lieut. Leslie.

A NEMESIS seems to be following the Honolulu Stockyards. A fire occurred yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock on School street between the School street bridge and Liliha street in which the stable belonging to Mr. Rice of the Stockyards narrowly escaped being burned to the ground. The strange part of the circumstances lies in the fact that in this stable are a number of horses and vehicles which were saved from the disastrous Stockyards fire of a week ago.

Yesterday's fire burned three cottages and nearly all their contents to the ground while the Kauluwela school was in danger for several minutes of going with the residences. The prompt action of the fire department and the presence of a vacant lot between the burning cottages and the school saved the latter from destruction.

The fire is said to have started in the residence of C. J. Hoke, which faces on Kauluwela lane, the nearest to School street. Mr. Hoke states he does not know exactly how the fire began, as he was absent at the time. The fire gained headway on account of a heavy fall wind, which shot the flames across an intervening space to the cottage occupied by Joaquin Freias, father of the court interpreter. In a few minutes three cottages were blazing fiercely. The fire department was compelled to make a wide detour of streets in order to reach the fire, on account of the incomplete condition of the School street bridge.

The cottage of Mr. Hoke was burned to the ground, and that of Mr. Freias nearly so. The heavy winds carried burning brands to neighboring houses and there was a general exodus. A coconut palm in the corner of the school yard, within two feet of the building, caught fire and blazed to such an extent that Superintendent of Public Instruction Adkinson, who arrived on the scene early, called for the assistance of the firemen. The wind, however, shifted and the blaze finally died out.

A pathetic incident was connected with the breaking out of the fire in the Hoke house. During the forenoon Mr. Hoke's little child swallowed kerosene oil and was in a very precarious condition when the fire started. The family became panic-stricken and before the child could be removed considerable smoke had enveloped it. When laid out on a nearby lawn the child was seen to be suffering and the mother's grief was pitiful to witness. The incident gave rise to the rumor that a child had been burned to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Freias were in their house when the fire started next door. Mrs. Freias has not been well of late, and instead of leaving her home she remained inside. Neighbors were getting the furniture out and tried to get the woman out but she refused. Finally, when the house was in flames she was made to see her danger and was taken to a neighbor's. Her daughter, Mrs. Franca, who lived in the same house, was absent at the time, and was almost distracted by the news of the burning of her home, fearing that her mother had lost her life.

Mr. Hoke estimates his loss at about $2,000. Lieut. Leslie of the mounted police burned his hand severely while assisting in the removal of some of the inmates from one of the cottages. He also picked up a revolver and a large number of cartridges. There were probably several boxes of ammunition left in the fire, as a fusillade of shots was occasionally heard.

General Smith Going Home.

General James F. Smith, formerly colonel of the First California Volunteers, and now associate justice of the Supreme Court of the Philippines, is supposed to be on his way to San Francisco. His wife has received a letter from him in which he said that he had obtained a three months' leave of absence, and would embark for San Francisco early in August. The transport Hancock left Manila on August 6.

UITLANDERS WANT TO KICK

Hackfeld & Co.'s Athletic Employees Would Play Inter-collegiate Ball.

Hackfeld & Co. will be represented by an intercollegiate football team this season. A club has been formed and two practices have already taken place.

The instigator of the idea is Aleck Isenberg, who is keenly alive to the benefits accruing from athletics, and who is very desirous of introducing a hankering after strenuous recreation among the employees of his firm.

Mr. C. P. Morse was deputed to get the thing going. He is a football player of large experience and in 1898 captained the team of the Olympic Club of San Francisco. Last season he was one of the local Association code stars.

The Hackfeldians are nearly all green hands at the game, the exceptions being Messrs. Duisenberg, Harrison and Gray, who have had more or less previous experience.

At a meeting of the club C. P. Morse was appointed captain and coach of the team.

Practice has been indulged in on the last two Saturdays at Makiki, when the men showed considerable promise. Morse says that they are getting onto the game very rapidly although, of course, they have a lot to learn. Most Germans are good at wrestling and other branches of athletics, and should therefore easily adapt themselves to football as played under intercollegiate rules.

The next practice will be held a week from today.

One game has already been arranged with Theo. H. Davies & Co. to be played during the latter part of October.

The team, which will probably average 165 pounds, will include: Messrs. Klebahn, Tschumi, Schultzer, Stopp, Kruger, Stadlander, Schmidt, Geary, Harrison, Duisenberg, Dunkhauser, Glade, Miller, Francis and Morse.

Hackfeld & Co. will also organize an Association football team, which will oppose Theo. H. Davies & Co. in November. The team will compete for the Association league championship.

The football affairs of the firm of Theo. H. Davies & Co. are being looked after by George Angus. Mr. Angus on being interviewed yesterday, said that as yet nothing much had been done in the way of organizing teams.

NEW BONDS FOR ROAD

Hilo Railway Will Consolidate All Issues.

MANY THOUSANDS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Terminals at Hilo Will Take Much of New Funds Which Will Be Raised.

ALL the holders of the bonds of the Hilo Railroad Company having signified their approval of the plan, the bonds will be replaced by a new bond, the trust deed covering the entire road and the terminal facilities at Hilo. This new deed will be to secure an issue of $1,000,000 6 per cent bonds, which will be transferred to the holders of the old debentures.

This deal, which is the result of one of the many financial transactions of B. F. Dillingham while on the Coast last, will mean much for the development of the Hilo terminals of the new railroad. The bonds which will be replaced by the new issue are now in two sets. One is covered by a deed of trust based upon the main line of the road, known as the Hilo and Puna division. The amount of these bonds is $450,000. The Olaa division, which is the shorter line running through the Olaa plantation, and to within eight or nine miles of the Volcano House, is bonded in the sum of $150,000.

The deal by which the new bonds take the place of the original issue contemplates the selling of at least half of the surplus of $400,000, or perhaps a total of nearly $850,000, for the purpose of developing the property of the company at Hilo. This development will take the form of a line through Hilo to the Hilo mill, formerly the Portuguese Mill Company's plant, and possibly a branch to the Waiakea mill. There will be two bridges over the Waiakea river necessary in the improvement, and the branches will comprise one to the projected docks, and a belt line around the harbor to Waiuanue street with a station of the road in the business center of the city.

The new docks, the company to build which is entirely a Hilo corporation, will be a much-needed improvement and will involve the expenditure of from $50,000 to $60,000, the dock to be 800 feet long. This work, while not to be commenced for several months yet, means the consolidation of several important interests in the mercantile line. The Hilo Railroad Company does not intend to dominate the enterprise, though it has subscribed for a majority of the stock at present and will furnish much of the money for the building of the docks and warehouses. The line of the railroad will run out onto the new docks so as to make the handling of merchandise as easy as possible, with as little expense to the shipper, as well.

The issuance of the new bonds will take place at once, now that the majority of the holders of the old issues have signified their approval of the plan. There will be about $50,000 held in the treasury, authorized but unissued, so that in the event of any improvement being deemed necessary it may be undertaken at once. The money is ready for the company as soon as the bonds are put on the market.

CONSUL CANAVARRO'S RETURN.

Is Expected to Reach Honolulu by November.

Senhor A. de S. Canavaro, who for almost a generation has been the representative of the Portuguese Government here, is now on his way to his old home in Portugal. Some time ago Senhor Canavaro went to San Francisco for his health, and while there he was again taken ill. He was in communication with his Government, and on account of his condition his leave of absence was extended. He quite recovered and gained his strength, his old friends who saw him in San Francisco saying that he was in better health than for many years before. The Lisbon Government gave him an opportunity to visit the capital, after an absence of twenty years, and he took it at once, and is now on the way. He is expected to stay in Lisbon for a month at least, and Mr. W. M. Giffard, who saw him off in San Francisco, said yesterday that he expects to see him back in Honolulu by the first of November. George de S. Canavaro, son of the Consul, returned in the Sonoma and will resume his studies at Punahou when the fall term opens.
